

KOKUMA

KOKUMA is a Yoruba word meaning, "This One will never Die" and KOKUMA DANCE COMPANY lives up that name in every performance.

KOKUMA is comprised of nine members who dance and drum for everyone, including themselves. They convey sadness, love, happiness in their performances and create an atmosphere of rich African and West Indian cultures. The group has been together since 1978 performing, teaching, creating and sharing with audiences their love for music and dance. KOKUMA specialises in African and West Indian dance forms but are equally adept at contemporary and folk dances from other cultures. The group has performed at International festivals, for members of the Royal family, for charities and appeared with Jamaica's foremost entertainer (Ms. Louise Bennett) on her television programme in Kingston. The group has also appeared on BBC television on two occasions and has performed at Universities, Polytechnics, a variety of clubs and prisons.

KOKUMA is an experience, so why not phone?

Pat: 021-523 6463 Bob: 021-551 4273/4

Doreen: 021-523 5652 and be a part of that experience.

KOKUMA, c/o 67, Maxwell Avenue, Handsworth, Birmingham.

KOKUMA is DANCE KOKUMA is SONG KOKUMA is DRUMS KOKUMA is POETRY KOKUMA is an EXPERIENCE

Design and photography by Sidelines,
81, Grove Lane, Handsworth, Birmingham B21 9HE.
Tel: (021) 551 2351.