

their experience for inclusion in their own guides will not receive
 , with its local centre sections, to Fulham, Islington, Hackney,
 , Southwark, Lambeth and planned to set up stands to raise funds and promote their services,

All this will take place to a background of free music live from 23 noon to 8pm, Bands already booked include Misty in Roots Darts African Connection and Jazawaki, Local groups will also be playing.

period from 30th July.

The play scheme will run from 8.30 each morning until 5.30 at night and will be catering for children aged 12 and above.

The scheme has already attracted a good response but there are still places left and any parent with a mentally handicapped child who would be interested should contact Mrs Bayliss at the Bromley Council for Voluntary Services; telephone: 01 464 2287.

Left to right: Lorraine Graves, Stephanie Dabney and Virginia Johnson, the three main dancers of the Dancers Theatre of Harlem, at a reception at County Hall two weeks ago.

Summer Arts School

WOULD you like to learn more about yourself, your history, your people.

OBAALA, The Organisation for Black Arts Development and Leisure Activities, is holding its first Summer Arts School at the Black Art Gallery during August. It will run from Ondon 6th until Friday 24th. Classes will be open to 11-16 year olds in Cultural History, Painting, Drawing, Sculpture/Modelling, Print and Collage making.

Throughout the three weeks, events planned include, visits to places of interest, slide shows, films, video shows, talks and practical work with tuition by experienced black artists. There are only 30 places, so if you are keen ring 01-263 1918 if you would like to attend.

ENROLMENT; 2st, 2nd, 3rd August. FEE: £1.

